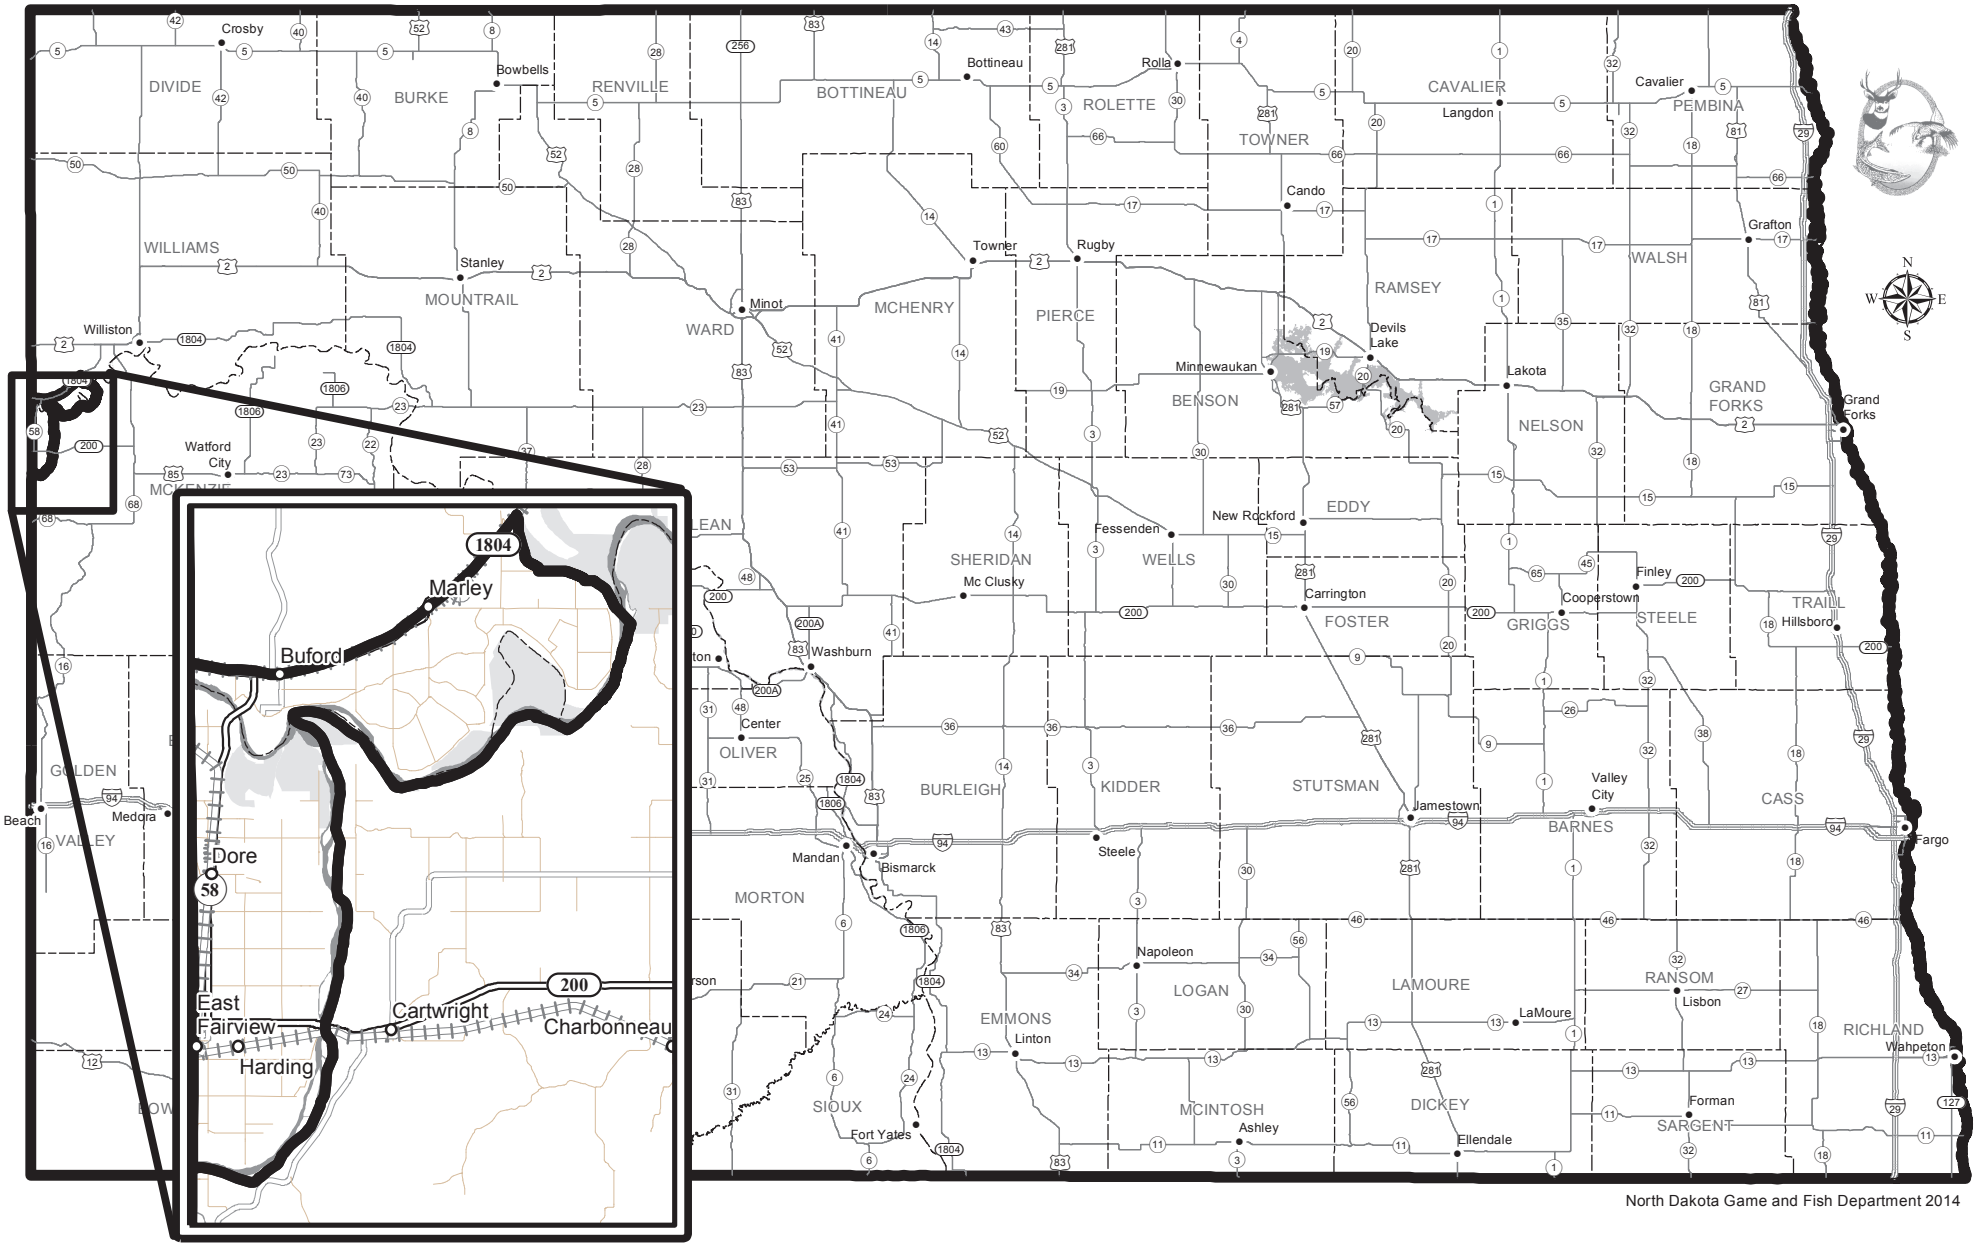
Pheasant Hunting Units



North Dakota Game and Fish Department 2014

North Dakota pheasant hunting is open statewide with a delayed opener zone. This zone is identified as areas in Williams and McKenzie counties starting where BN Railroad enters North Dakota, then east on the railroad tracks to the west boundary of the Trenton Wildlife Management Area (southwest of Trenton), then south and east on the boundary of the Trenton WMA to the Missouri River, then directly across the river, then west to the Yellowstone River, then south and west on the Yellowstone River to the Montana border, then north to the point of origin. Please refer to the Departments website for specific date and detail information on the delayed opener zone.
